70 Red Buckets of Surprises!

“ Thought I would share a success story on a floor coating project we just completed. Trent Woodard is our rep. Trent is never surprised by an order because he is always so deeply involved in each project we team up on. He recently helped us on this manufacturing floor project. The owner was dissatisfied with a floor coating that had failed (not Carboline, not installed by LA Smith) and asked us to come in and solve the problem. Trent made his recommendation for product based on the conditions and together we “sealed” the deal. Two weeks after the initial proposal we were onsite removing what was left of the inferior coating and installing Carboline as a final solution. ”
